many choice question

Teaching by questioning, as described in the Science article you read has the following advantage(s) over the traditional lecture method (check all that apply)

A. Students engage in meaningful thinking during class time

B. Students become emotionally invested in the learning process

C. It provides an opportunity for the instructor to integrate technology (such as clickers) into the classroom

D. Students help each other resolve misunderstandings more effectively

E. Promotes memorization of factual questions

You may select zero, one, or many answers.

For an assessment like this to work in an online setting which of the following must be true? (check all that apply)

A. The questions must have a correct answer.

B. The questions must not be so difficult that the best students can’t score 100% individually.

C. Each of the questions must permit at least 3 choices.

D. The instructor must make sure that the answers to the questions are not available on the internet.

E. The questions must involve thinking skills on Bloom’s taxonomy higher than memorization (understanding or higher).

F. The assessment must be low-stakes and frequent.

• teambasedlearning.org

• need to make questions difficult

• need to “de-Google” questions
‘I think that this question of “information transfer” vs “sense-making” is going to be really important as we deal with assessment in the fall (or for as long as the pandemic changes the way that we’re teaching).’
Perusall Feedback

• technology
• video: useful or not?
• student motivation
• synchronous vs asynchronous
‘Just wondering if the video lecturing is not similar to traditional lecturing.’
Student Motivation

Helen Williams ‘@Eric Mazur - in a previous video, you mentioned using a quiz at the start of the synchronous session as an incentive to encourage learners to complete the required pre-session tasks. Is this a motivational approach you’d recommend as standard?’
Javier Macías Guarasa: “I wonder if adding a “Prev. thread” icon similar to the existing “Next thread” and “Next unread thread” would be possible. I was overwhelmed with the amount of comments and I think it would be really very useful to be able to go back and forward. Thanks again for your superb work and help, see you in a few hours!”
